

Truman To Decide Soon On Future Of Meat Control

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Washington, Oct. 12 (AP)—President Truman pondered arguments for and against easing or scrapping meat controls and a high official said the Chief Executive will decide "very soon."

"It's all up to the President now," said this official who has figured prominently in White House discussions of the seething meat problem.

Mr. Truman will make his decision known to the nation in a radio address Sunday night, if tentative plans go through. This also was reported by some of those familiar with the situation.

Expect Modification
One indication that an announcement is near came as the Agriculture Department rushed work on an answer to the beef industry's formal petition for removal of ceilings.

Meanwhile, from officials who know what went on at yesterday's cabinet discussion of the meat issue there came conflicting reports of what the President may do.

One official said he believes Mr. Truman is inclined toward some modification of the present meat control program, presumably involving higher ceiling or perhaps a certificate plan insuring against a long-run profit loss on livestock.

Another official said he got the impression the President is opposed to a middle-ground program of this kind.

Argentine Question
When a reporter noted that left outright decontrol or retention of the present price lids as the only alternatives, the official replied: "That's right."

It is known, however, that the possibility of importing meat to help ease the shortage was one of the points discussed by the cabinet.

Given most consideration was whether to bring in fresh meat from Argentina, a course which would require removal of a ban imposed because of a hoof and mouth disease threat. Argentina already has offered to ship 4,000,000 pounds of canned meat, which is not covered by the ban.

These proposals prompted sharp criticism on both the political and industry fronts.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) termed the suggested importation of Argentine beef "Shocking."

EAGLES VOTE $500 TO GIVE NURSE SERVICE

The Gettysburg Aerie of Eagles Friday night joined other local organizations in backing a proposal to supply nursing service to county school children now without that service by voting to give $500 toward the program.

The move brought to $2,000 the amount offered by local organizations so far in a move to raise $5,400 with which to secure three nurses to provide a demonstration of one year's nursing service in the schools in the county now without such facilities. Approximately 4,000 children in county schools do not have nursing care now.

The Moose lodge here has offered $500 and the county TB society has offered $1,000 toward the nursing program proposed by the County School board. The county board has sent letters to a number of organizations asking their assistance in financing the proposed demonstration of nursing service. Pointing out that the county board has no funds available, the letter asks donations for perhaps the first time in history for a school activity in order to initiate the program.

The letter from the county board points out that in those districts where nursing service was previously established the school boards and patrons of the schools, convinced of the value of the services, have continued the program and regard it as a necessary part of the school establishment. The demonstration planned by the county board is designed to show those districts now without nurses the value of such service with the belief that after such a demonstration the patrons and boards will decide to continue the service with district funds.

Plan Charter Dinner
Plans to honor the charter members of the local Eagles were outlined with a dinner to be held in November for the eight living charter members.

Those charter members include Charles W. Myers, James B. Aumen, Francis I. Smith, Dr. H. M. Hartman, B. D. Gilbert, George A. McClellan, John W. Brehm, and H. C. Gilbert. The local organization received its charter on May 4, 1907.

Trustees of the Eagles were placed in charge of the dinner, the date of which has not yet been set. Officers of the club will also attend the affair.

The Eagles also voted a $15 contribution to the local Civic Nurse association.

CHARGE WILL FOLLOW CRASH

Miss Mildred E. Eden, Mt. Newmar, local state nurse, will be charged before Justice of the Peace William Dentler, Cashtown, with a motor code violation as a result of an accident Friday evening at 7:20 o'clock in Seven Stars, state police said today.

Officer Charles Downey, who investigated the accident in which Miss Eden's car struck another car and a truck before careening into a ditch, said that the exact nature of the charge would be determined following further investigation.

According to the state policeman Miss Eden was driving west on the Lincoln highway when her car struck a car driven east by Crist Fleck, Orrtanna, and then smashed into a truck also going east and driven by Robert K. Goetz, Chambersburg.

The state nurse told the officer she was blinded by the lights of the oncoming vehicles. A foggy condition also existed at the time and there was a slight rain falling, the officer said.

No one was injured in the accident. Damage totalled $160.

EGG PRICES UP TODAY; POULTRY SUPPLY STRONG

Eggs went up on the Farmers Market today to 66 and 68 cents a dozen from last week's price of 65 cents. A few sold, however, as low as 58 cents, pullet size. Chickens remained at 65 cents a pound, however, with a large supply on hand.

There was little prospect today of an early supply of other meats at market. Farmers who regularly start winter-long butchering operations in the fall said they are waiting for cooler weather before making plans to handle fresh pork on the market stands.

Other prices remained unchanged on most items. There was a profusion of fall produce. Apples were plentiful in several varieties, Smokehouse, Baldwin, Stark Delicious, Paradise, Grimes Golden and Jonathan. They sold for 15 and 20 cents a quart box up to $3.25 a bushel.

Plenty of Spuds
There were plenty of potatoes, which brought 20 cents a quart box for best, 35 cents a half peck and 70 cents a peck. Smaller sizes were 10 cents a quart box, and second 15 cents a half peck.

Sweet corn was scarce and a small supply sold for 40 cents a dozen. Sweet potatoes were 20 cents a quart. Other prices were:

Endive, 10 cents a stalk; beets, 10 cents a bunch; chinese cabbage, 15 cents each; lima beans, 40 cents a pint; parsley, five cents a bunch; peppers, five and 10 cents each; cauliflower, from 10 and 20 cents up, depending on size; celery, 20 cents a bunch; sweet cider, 65 cents a gallon.

Lettuce was 15 cents; turnips, ten cents; pumpkins, from five to 15 cents; cabbage, five cents a pound; eggplant, five and ten cents. Potato salad sold for its usual price of 20 cents a pint; cottage cheese was 20 cents a pint, sweet cream, 35 cents a pint and buttermilk ten cents a quart.

With Three Treaties Ready, Conference Works On Hungary

Paris, Oct. 10 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Walter B. Smith told the peace conference today that the United States was ready to back the transfer of some Magyar-populated areas of Czechoslovakia to defeated Hungary if necessary.

Smith, the U. S. Ambassador to Russia, said the United States would support Czechoslovakia's compromise proposal to transfer 200,000 Magyars from Czech territory to Hungary through a bilateral agreement.

Smith's statement was sandwiched between a string of Slav speeches which opened plenary session debate on the peace pact for Hungary the fourth of five treaties to be considered. Slav delegates urged Hungary to join more solidly with the Slav-Danubian group of states.

The United States insisted that any transfer of Hungarians from Czechoslovakia be voluntary and by bilateral agreement, Smith said, and would be watching to see that it was carried out with "restraint."

Yugoslav and Czechoslovak delegates hinted broadly in their statements that Hungary was an "unsatisfactory" tenant of the Danube basin. Stanejevic Simic of Yugoslavia implied this was due to western pressure at Hungary's gateway to the Balkans, saying some powers were "trying to play one Balkan country against another."

He added that "the only hindrance to navigation on the Danube comes from the western allies by their detention of numerous ships on the upper Danube" (the American zone of Austria).

LETTER WRITING WEEK THRU U.S. STARTS SUNDAY

Uncle Sam's mailmen, recalling the pleasure that soldiers and sailors had during the war years from the mail they received, are sponsoring National Write a Letter Week starting Sunday with the hope that what proved a morale booster for the service men will help just as much in boosting the spirits of the civilians.

"You'll make someone feel better if you write a letter" is the theme of the week and the mailmen hope that some Monday they'll find themselves delighted with mail, and that the flood of letters keeps up for the remainder of the week.

They also hope that the idea which the week sponsors will be continued by the letter writers on a 52 weeks-a-year basis.

Chambersburg, Oct. 12 (AP)—Wilson college today observed the 76th anniversary of its opening with a Founders Day convocation featuring an address by Ambassador Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines.

The convocation, set for 2 p. m., was the opening event of the first post-war parents week-end to be held at the women's school. Romulo, Philippine delegate to the United Nations, was expected to discuss America's responsibilities in the Orient.

President Paul Swain Havens and Dr. Charles A. Anderson, of Philadelphia, director of the Presbyterian historical society and former president of the college, were also on the speaking program.

Earlier today, Catherine Herr, of Westfield, N. J., senior class president, placed a wreath upon the grave of Miss Sarah Wilson at Rocky Spring Church, three miles from the campus. It was a gift of $30,000 by the Scotch-Irish spinster which made the college possible.

Simic demanded that the foreign ministers' council consult Yugoslavia before giving final approval to the decisions of the conference, reached "by bringing the erroneous method of out-voting to extreme ruthlessness."

Dr. Vlado Clements of Czechoslovakia spoke of "the unsatisfactory state of our relations even at present" with Hungary, saying "the behavior of the Hungarian government in this matter is such as to provoke a very serious disquiet in this section of central Europe." He said "the world should accept" what he termed "the cooperation and alliance of the Slav nations, who suffered more in the war, with the Soviet Union."

LOCAL COUPLE TO MARK 54TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Levi J. Deardorff, Hanover street, Sunday will celebrate their 54th wedding anniversary but no particular observance has been planned by them for the day.

They were married October 13, 1892, in the parlor of Mrs. Deardorff's then home in Straban township. She was the former Sarah C. Fidler, daughter of the late John W. and Susan Hartzell Fidler. The Rev. J. M. Wright, pastor of Bender's Lutheran church performed the ceremony before the immediate families. "We didn't want any particular fuss," Mrs. Deardorff recalls of the occasion and the wedding was conducted quietly at the home.

Following the ceremony they went on a wedding trip by train to Harrisburg and returned to go to farming. For a time they lived close to Pines church and then, in 1913, moved to Gettysburg to the house in which they now live. They have resided there since.

33 Years At Factory
Mr. Deardorff went to work for the Reaser furniture company in 1913 and now is the oldest man in the plant in years and in service.

Proud of his 33 years of work for the Reaser company he points out that he has never "done a day's work anywhere else since I started on the job."

Recalling the great expansion of the Reaser plant since 1913, Mr. Deardorff tells of how much of the handwork needed in 1913 has now been replaced by the most modern types of machinery. "You can see tremendous improvement at the plant by thinking back over the past 33 years," Mr. Deardorff continues. "Much of the machinery now used wasn't even thought of then. But as it became available the company bought it and improved its output. There has been progress all along the line."

68 Years of Work
The Hanover street man still enjoys work and still is interested in the Reaser House company, of which he was a charter member and of (Please Turn to Page 2)

REPUBLICANS PLAN CAMPAIGN HEADQUARTERS

With election only a little more than three weeks away, the tempo of the Republican campaign program is being accelerated in Adams county.

John H. Basehore, Republican county chairman, announced today that Republican headquarters will be opened Monday in the store formerly occupied by Green's record shop on York street, just off the square.

Two Republican rallies are planned before election, Chairman Basehore said. There will be a rally October 23 at 8 p. m. in the Community hall at Bendersville, and the usual county-wide rally on November 2, the Saturday night preceding election, at the court house here.

Candidates To Speak
Congressman Chester H. Gross and State Representative Francis Worley have been scheduled as the principal speakers at these rallies, with possible guest speakers from Harrisburg. Candidates on the state and national ticket probably will not be heard in Gettysburg again before election. Several of them, including Governor Edward Martin, Attorney General James A. Duff, Col. Daniel B. Strickler and William S. Livengood, Jr., spoke here on October 1 at the court house.

Martin is candidate for U.S. senator; Duff for governor; Strickler for lieutenant governor and Livengood for secretary of internal affairs, a post he now occupies.

The Republican headquarters will be open daily, Mr. Basehore said. Information, campaign literature and buttons will be there for distribution.

Meeting Committee
Meetings begun early this week with the Republican committeemen throughout the county will continue next week, Mr. Basehore said. The county chairman met with committeemen at New Oxford and Abbotstown Friday night. Among other regional meetings which have been held were York Springs, Tuesday night; McSherrytown, Wednesday night; and Bendersville, Thursday night. These, Basehore said, are "get out the vote" meetings.

Next week the county chairman will meet committeemen at Fairfield Monday night; East Berlin Tuesday night; Biglerville Wednesday night; third ward, Gettysburg, Thursday night and Littlestown Friday night.

SOLDIER DISCHARGED
Pfc. Robert C. Aughinbaugh, 25 North Stratton street, was discharged from the army this week at Ft. Meade, Md.

Football Game Here Tonight

Late this morning Prof. Guile W. Lefever, principal of Gettysburg high school, announced the Gettysburg-Waynesboro football game, postponed from Friday night due to inclement weather, will be played this evening at 8 o'clock "if it doesn't rain."

School officials are hopeful the weather forecast of showers and cooler will not hold up although every indication points to bad weather. In the event the game is postponed later today it will be staged Monday night.

The postponement of the game Friday night was a repetition of the Gettysburg-Waynesboro tilt scheduled here two years ago. The game was postponed until the following Saturday night when the Maroons gained their only triumph of the season 12-0.

ASK MERCHANTS TO BACK SCOUT 'BIKE' CONTEST

Gettysburg merchants today received letters from the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce urging them to participate in the Black Walnut district Boy Scout bicycle contest by sponsoring a scout in the event.

Designed to promote safety, skill an enjoyment in the use of "bikes," the contest will begin Saturday afternoon, Oct. 26, when most scout troops in the district will stage contests to determine their three best bicycle riders. The first three winners in each troop contest will compete in a district event to be held November 2.

"In order to help the scouts in this worthwhile project," the letter points out, "we call upon you to sponsor some registered Scout in his contest. The only obligations to you will be to arrange with the scout of your choice to carry your firm's name; for you to publicize the fact that the scout is representing you and to arrange for some token to be given the scout at the conclusion of the contest."

Those sponsoring scouts were asked to notify the Chamber secretary, Mrs. Helen Snyder. A list of scoutmasters was contained in the letter in order that the merchants might contact them to obtain a scout for sponsorship.

The program is backed by Borough Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster according to the letter which quotes him as saying: "For some time I have realized the pressing need of a practical program of safety and safety education for the young people of Gettysburg and vicinity. This bike contest that is to be sponsored by the merchants of the community and conducted by the scouts should prove to be a big step in the right direction and I certainly am backing it 100 percent."

ASK PROBE OF POLLUTION OF COUNTY CREEKS

The Adams County Fish and Game Association Friday evening voted to request Fish warden John S. Ogden and the State Game Commission to investigate alleged pollution of the Conewago, Possum and Bermudian creeks.

A number of residents along the streams have presented complaints to the county group and investigation by a number of members, as reported at Friday evening's session, backed up the complaints that pollution of the streams is killing off the fish.

One member reported a number of dead fish floating near Table Rock. Another reported seeing dead eels and other fish in Possum creek, which he claimed has turned blue from materials being dumped into the stream.

Plan Safety Campaign

President George R. Martin and other members blamed the larger fruit canneries including the Musselman company and Adams Apple corporation for causing the pollution, declaring that the material was coming from their plants.

The club also announced its local participation in the state's "Hunt Safely Week." One part of the program will be an attempt to have a sound motion picture on "The Making of a Shooter," in which proper handling of a gun is stressed, shown at an assembly in the local high school. Dr. Lloyd C. Keefeauver was delegated to make the arrangements for the showing.

A letter from the Pennsylvania Game Commission in which Governor Martin was quoted as stating that "Hunting accidents can be reduced to a minimum through the united efforts of all interested groups by means of safety programs designed to teach safe gun handling and safe hunting."

To Repair Bream's Dam

The association urged all sportsmen goods dealers to emphasize safety in their fall window displays and urged every member to discuss safety measures in meeting with hunters, particularly the "youngsters who are doing their first hunting this fall."

The letter from the state Game Commission urged that "When you go afield this fall handle your gun carefully at all times; withhold your fire until you absolutely are sure your target is

FREEDOM OF DANUBE RIVER MAJOR ISSUE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
Freedom of the Danube, which the Paris Peace conference has included in the Romanian draft treaty over the fierce objections of the Russian dominated Slavic bloc, is of vast importance to world peace and progress.
The battle which has been raging over this issue represents a major effort by the Western Allies, led by America and Britain, to penetrate the "iron curtain" which divides Europe into two camps.
Whether that effort will succeed along these lines remains in grave doubt, despite the action of the conference. The draft treaty now has to be passed to the council of big four foreign ministers for approval and approval must be unanimous in order to stick. If Russia vetoes the Danubian clause, out it goes.
Vandenberg's Statement
J. S. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, in fighting for this clause, put the matter thus:
"The United States delegation believes a free Danube is indispensable to the economic health, and therefore to the peace, of Central Europe. . . the United States has no direct commercial interest of its own in the Danube . . . but the larger problem of the general peace . . . which is the responsibility of every nation in this conference, is substantially related to the avoidance of international trade barriers which invite discrimination and dangerous frictions."
Both Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and Edward Karelj of Yugoslavia rejected the arguments of Senator Vandenberg and British Foreign Minister Bevin with strong words. The former charged in effect that the capitalistic nations were trying to establish economic imperialism in the Danubian theatre.
Why This Fuss?
And why all this fuss and feathers over a river? To the world at large the Danube is associated mainly with the name of a lovely and imperishable waltz.
More to the point is the fact that the Danube—second largest river in Europe—provides a water highway through the heart of the Continent and washes the boundaries of eight nations, including Soviet Russia. The other seven are Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Romania and Bulgaria.
A huge amount of commerce moves over the Danube and it is an integral part of the economic life of that part of Europe. But it is more than that, for in time of war it provides a strategic water route for military operations. During both world wars there were great troop movements in that theatre, and heavy fighting. The Danube has been tinged with the crimson of many other conflicts through the centuries.
An international Danube navigation commission was established in 1856 and the navigation of the river was declared free to all nations. Barring the duration of the first world war the river remained open until Germany withdrew from the commission in 1936 and later took complete control through domination of Central Europe.
Now the Danube again has been closed off by the Slavic bloc. And unless the Big Four Foreign Ministers accept the Danubian clause in the Romanian treaty, the mighty river will remain sequestered.

YANK SHAKE-UP GETS UNDERWAY

New York, Oct. 12 (AP)—The long-expected shakeup in the ranks of the New York Yankees, once the scourge of the baseball world, has started in earnest.
In a surprise announcement at midnight the Yankees announced they had traded Joe "Flash" Gordon, star second baseman, to the Cleveland Indians for Allie Reynolds, a 27-year-old right-handed pitcher who won 11 games and lost 15 the past season.
The Yanks also sent Joe Edward Bockman, a rookie third sacker, to the Indians for an undisclosed amount of cash and players to be announced later. Bockman trained with the Yanks in Panama last spring before being shifted to the club's Kansas City farm in the American association.
The deal, apparently made by Larry MacPhail, president of the Yanks, and Bill Veeck, president of the Indians, at the world series in Boston, follows the unexpected resignation of Bill Dickey as manager in the closing days of the season. Dickey had succeeded Joe McCarthy at the helm in May.

BULLETINS

Nanking, Oct. 12 (AP)—Government capture of Kalgan, which the Chinese communists made their No. 1 military citadel, prompted many observers to conclude today that China's peace talks were definitely doomed.

which he is the oldest member in time and service.
While Mr. Deardorff will be 78 in November, Mrs. Deardorff will celebrate her 77th birthday on Monday.
Mr. Deardorff estimates that on his birthday in November he will have been working 68 years. When he was ten he was out "among strangers earning my living."
When he started work, he recalls, he was paid $2 a month. "The year before I was married I was earning $100 for eight months' work on the farm and I thought that I really was earning money. And I was, too, for that day."
"The Good Old Days"
Recalling the "chaff bag" beds of the first part of his life and recalling that "at one place I stayed there was only a kitchen stove and frequently you would see ice frozen in pans on the stove in the winter-time when you got up in the morning," Deardorff points out that those living today have little to complain about in regards to physical comfort.
But, he adds, "we didn't mind the conditions then and I sometimes think we were lots happier."
Speaking of winters, he added, the modern snow plow has replaced one custom of an earlier day that was used to keep the roads open. "Then, when it snowed, nearly everybody along the road would get his horse out and plod up and down through the snow in order to keep the road open. I remember one Sunday when we worked all day and most of the night going out every so often with the horses to ride back and forth in order to keep the road from being closed."

Bears Fight To Death At Zoo

Pittsburgh, Oct. 12 (AP)—An eight-foot long Kodiak bear and a big polar bear fought to the death yesterday in the Highland Park zoo—and the Kodiak left his enemy stretched lifeless at the feet of his three mates.
The animals fought for a half-hour in spite of keepers' attempts to separate them and the victor routed one of the white bear's mates while playing the victim. After the battle, the Kodiak bear returned to his cage through the bars he had bent to reach the polar bear in an adjacent runway.

PLANES CRASH IN HEAVY FOG

Alexandria, Va., Oct. 12 (AP)—Two plane crashes in a pea soup fog eight miles apart last night killed all five aboard an army bomber but spared 26 persons who crawled from the blazing wreckage of a big eastern air line DC 4.
The planes, attempting to land under a 300-foot ceiling, struck within 40 minutes of each other in the scrub pine countryside near here, a few miles south of Washington.
Eye-witnesses said the DC 4, en route from Miami to New York via Atlanta, apparently hit a farmer's lumber pile as the pilot groped blindly through the dense fog for a landing. The ship careened against a well house, ripped into a 2,300-volt high tension power line crashed in a valley and burst into flames. Debris was strewn over half a mile of the wooded muddy terrain about five miles south of here.
In the night's first and more tragic accident, the B-25 Army plane was en route from Langley Field, Va., to Andrews Field, Md. At 11:26 p. m., the army craft reported heavy fog and asked permission to land at National airport, Washington, or at the navy's Bolling Field, across the Potomac river. Told to wait a moment, that another plane was coming in to land, the B-25 circled away and nothing more was heard from it until it crashed in a wooded area about six miles south of the airport.
Farmers living in the isolated area said they heard the plane circling around about three or four times "and then suddenly it blew up in the air."

Inside, upwards of 10,000 guests made their own beds, carried their own bags and waited for non-striking white collar help to run an occasional elevator. If they got hungry, they ate out.
The strike began late yesterday after a breakdown of negotiations for new union contracts to replace those which expired September 30.

RED SOX MUST BEAT BRECHEN TO WIN FLAG

By JACK HAND
En Route to St. Louis, Oct. 12 (AP)—Harry (the cat) Brechen stands between the Boston Red Sox and the 1946 world championship as the travel-weary baseball caravan heads back to Sportsman's park.

Out in front of the St. Louis Cardinals by a 3-2 margin in games, Joe Cronin's Sox need but one more victory to clinch the big prize.

That one victory must be earned tomorrow over Brechen, a craft lefthander who holds a 3-0 series shutout, or the decision will be hanging in the balance until a seventh game is played Tuesday.

Harris or Ferriss

Cronin has listed an "either or" pitching selection, refusing to go any further than to say it will be Mickey Harris or Dave (Boo) Ferriss.

Boston climbed back into the driver's seat on yesterday's 6-3 win as three Red Sox players who had not figured prominently in pre-series discussion wrapped up the fifth game all by themselves. Joe Dobson, an overlooked starting pitcher, threw a four-hitter in coping his first series effort. Don Guttridge, a last minute sub for the ailing Bobb Doerr, came up with two big hits, one of which drove home the tie-breaking run in the second inning and Leon Culberson, an added starter in right field, smashed a home run that gave Dobson a more comfortable working margin in the sixth.

Howie Pollet didn't have a thing and was hammered off the hill in one third of an inning after allowing three hits and one run. Some effective relief pitching by Al Brazie was all that saved the Cards from a first-inning rout. As it was they tied up the game in their half of the second but once Boston grabbed the lead in its half of the same frame, it was evident to most of the 35,892 spectators that it was not going to be a St. Louis day.

Crushed In Seventh
Ted Williams drove in his first run of the series with a first-inning single that knocked out Pollet and Guttridge scored Roy Partee with the tie-breaking tally in the second proving quite an argument.

Following Culberson's clout in the sixth, the Sox applied the crusher in the seventh with a three-run blast on doubles by Dom DiMaggio and Pinky Higgins, two intentional walks and a two-base error by Marty Marion on a wild throw. Enos Slaughter, hit on the right elbow by a pitched ball in the fourth inning, was forced out of the game in the seventh and reported last night there was some doubt about his playing Sunday.

The Sox's silling second sacker, Bobby Doerr, was expected to resume his place in the lineup after a two-day rest necessitated by a severe migraine headache.

MUHLBERG IS FAVORED OVER BISON ELEVEN

By NOEL MacCARRY
(By The Associated Press)

Interstate contests in which Bucknell met Muhlenberg and the Pittsburgh Panthers tangled with Temple university's Owls featured today's "Columbus Day" grid card with at least 34 Pennsylvania college teams slated to see action.

Although the Mules have managed to stop the Bisons of Bucknell only twice in their 18-game series, the boys from Muhlenberg, with victories in their two appearances thus far this season, were favored to turn back Bucknell with little difficulty. The Bisons have already been defeated this fall by Cornell and Penn State.

Coach Ray Morrison voiced confidence in his Owl squad as they entered for Pitt Stadium, saying "our mental attitude is exactly right." But there were many, even in the Quaker City, who felt the Templars would need a little something more than they've shown thus far this year that coach Wes Fessler's team would be a little too tough.

Another Penn Victory
The highly-touted University of Pennsylvania eleven was expected to be tested a little by the visiting Indians from Dartmouth college, but there were few who doubted the Big Red line would easily overcome the New Hampshire delegation.

Leading the travelling Keystone state teams were Villanova and Penn State. The Wildcats faced a tough Holy Cross eleven at Worcester, Mass., while the Nittany Lions were to meet Syracuse under the archlights at Syracuse.

Other out-of-state games involving Pennsylvania colleges included Drexel Tech vs. CCNY in New York, Susquehanna vs. Wagner at Staten Island, N. Y., and Washington and Jefferson vs. Dennison at Granville, Ohio.

Games within the state's borders include Thiel at Slippery Rock Teachers, Gettysburg at Lafayette, Geneva at Grove City, Earlham at Allegheny, Ursinus at Haverford, Franklin and Marshall at Swarthmore, Oberlin at Carnegie Tech, Lebanon Valley at Dickinson, Memphis ATC at Scranton, Monclair (N.J.) Teachers at Kutztown Teachers, Shippensburg at East Stroudsburg Teachers, Edinboro Teachers at Westminster and Millersville Teachers at Lock Haven Teachers.

Emmitsburg Bows To Middletown Booters
On a slippery field, the home-team Middletown high soccer eleven defeated Emmitsburg, 6-0, Thursday afternoon in the Frederick County Interscholastic league. Middletown maintained the offensive throughout while the North County visitors could not get their scoring combination started from any of 15 players used. The winners kept their starting squad in through the entire game.

Today's Talk

CHEERFUL FOLKS

I like to meet pleasant people.
Who doesn't? People who go about with faces so long that you would think they might take their meals out of a churn are not what is needed to create a better world.

None of our poets or humorists can have too big a day in the history of the world to suit me—or anyone.
They are the salt of the earth, and all of us should begin to take note of the fact. The cheerless folks are just so much fodder and rubbish that deserve no room in this best of all worlds that we know anything about.

There is a dearth of humorists in the world. A few of them should be pensioned, so as to raise the morale among us all. Few are the statesmen who can cope with the good that Mark Twain did in the world, a Eugene Field, or a Josh Billings. It was Artemus Ward's writings that steadied the heart of Abraham Lincoln during the most trying times of the Civil War. Cheerless people didn't help him one iota.

Much is said about our so-called Comic strips—but the fact is that most of them are not comic at all.
They started out that way—as comic —but lost their way. When they find it again, their popularity will increase by leaps and bounds. We need humor and cheerful talk, as never before, in our newspapers,
upon our stage, and in the movies.
People would react quickly to such a change, there are tragedy and trouble enough in the world.

I bought a book today—just because it was recommended as
"funny." I needed it in my intellectual diet—and who doesn't need just this? People with sour stomachs, and sour minds, need humor above all other medicines. As a digestive remedy it is unexcelled. Good laughs at mealtime will send many a doctor to urgent and essential calls, and we ought to help him out.

Cheerful folks are the salt of the earth. Everyone is benefitted by meeting and associating with them.
I like to read Stevenson, because,
though almost always ill, he spread cheer and good will among his friends, and in all that he wrote. I have no liking for so many of our modern so-called realistic books that consume valuable paper, publishing dirt and tragedy in space that leaves nothing but a trail of disgust behind. We need the laugh that is able to drown out the tear—and it has the power to do it!

REDDING'S

AUTO SALES & SERVICE

Leonard "Abe" Redding, Prop. — Phone 2911
603 S. Washington Street Gettysburg, Pa.

Elbert Hubbard might have said that automobile drivers are strong only as they believe in one another.

Battery to the Fore

Along about this time of year
when cold mornings, unheated garages and summer lube make real demands on the battery for starting,
a lot of motorists will console themselves with the idea that they can restore the battery to normalcy by driving around a few extra miles.
Such a viewpoint presupposes that the battery has gone weak merely because it was called upon to do a little more than its usual work. Actually, however, the battery may be in need of some real service. Or it may be nearing the end of its usefulness. In many cases where owners have had to pick up whatever was available the battery may be too small for the work it has to do.
Then, too, the battery may be overworked because the engine itself
needs servicing.

It Still Makes Sense

Twenty-five years ago, according to some editorial antique hunting
just conducted by the American Automobile association, I was saying that there are two extremes in driving. "One is to creep along at a snail's pace for fear the steering gear will snap or the tires blow out;
the other is to tear along the road
as though life depended upon getting to one's destination ahead of time, when as a matter of fact life is greatly dependent upon driving a la safe and sane. Some people unfortunately confuse motor wanderlust, this passion for the elsewhere,
with the unrelated passion for speed.
The motor car is an outlet for both,
but separately. You cannot drive 40 miles an hour and enjoy as many smiles in the same period of time.
You may look pleased as you watch
the speedometer near the 60 mark, but your face bears the grin of the speed maniac."

Aid for Sticky Shifts

More readers have recently been complaining of trouble with sticking gear shifts. They get into a gear and can't get out again, or there is just one gear that is hard to get into.
Sometimes the complaint is merely that all the shifts are unreasonably difficult. In some cases it develops that the bushing at the base of the steering column is binding. The remedy is to lubricate it, not with mineral oil (as this will ruin it) but with brake fluid. It is a good idea to drill a small hole just above the bushing and then squirt some brake fluid into it.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Motorists who do their own valve grinding often tell me that they cannot understand why they have so much trouble getting good tappet adjustments. Of course they have the same trouble before the work is done, but are more mystified than ever when the grinding affords no remedy. I reveal the secret when I tell them that like any other mechanic I always true up the valve stem ends for square contact.

"This is done by holding the valve ends against a grinding wheel. It requires special equipment to make sure that the ends are given square contact. This done, it is much easier to get correct clearances because you will be assured that if the valves rotate the end contacts will not vary."

Dust Caps Are Vital
Those little dust caps over the tire
valves are more than mere ornaments. They play a major role in helping to keep tire pressures up, for in addition to keeping dust from getting into the valve insides they hold air because of their snug threads. Tire men think of them as check valves, not mere frills. Perhaps you'll be interested to know that they will hold pressures up to 260 pounds. Screw them on hand tight, but never use pliers.

It Boosts Cooling

Must you use your car around town more or less exclusively or carry heavier than normal loads?
If so, and if the engine tends to run too hot, it would be well to consider the possibility of using an oversize water pump and fan blade unit. This is available on one of the popular makes and will give a ten per cent increase in fan speed. The idea is not recommended where an engine has obvious faults which should be removed and which, if corrected, would eliminate the tendency toward fever.

For safety's sake it is becoming increasingly important to note a new type of danger on the road. I can explain it most easily by referring to a few cases.

Recently when about to pass a new and quite wide car I just caught a glimpse of a little old car ahead of it — and just in time to avoid making a mistake. I've noticed recently that two cars, one an old model and one a new one, look as if they are coming toward you when they are actually facing the other way.

One Way of Braking

A good reader of this column, and a friend, tells me that especially when driving at road speed he always starts applying the brakes with a fair degree of vigor and then eases
up on his foot pressure as he nears
the stopping point. Of course he applies the brakes intermittently, by the well-known dabbing method, but the first application is always the hardest of the series. He believes that this method actually keeps the brakes cooler because of the decrease in pressure, and that the initial application helps to condition the brakes for more equalized action.

Three to Think About

One place where you can't expect the driver ahead to follow the usual rules of the road is at an intersection where there are many road signs. In reading them he is apt to forget about those behind him.

Maybe the reason you don't get good results from your efforts to keep the spark plugs clean is because you do not remember to use
new gaskets when replacing them.
Old gaskets allow escape of compression, and the oil that sucks up into the cylinders as a result of this is likely to cause the cleaned plugs to foul more quickly than before doing the job.

You'll want the butyl type of synthetic inner tube. The way to identify it is by the blue stripe with which it is adorned. The old, and unsatisfactory, type has a red stripe.

Questions of the Week

Q. Are sludge removers as effec-

Save ALL AROUND with these tractor tires

ON REAR WHEELS

Use B.F. Goodrich Hi-Cleat tractor
tires... the only tires that have cleats in pairs—one long, one short. Double bars for double bite and extra grip.
Open center, self-cleaning tread design. No mud-catching pockets to cause slippage. Extra high shoulders prevent sideslip. Tough, long-wearing rubber. Positive traction.

ON FRONT WHEELS

B.F. Goodrich front wheel tractor tires wear long, roll smoothly. Self-cleasing tread helps keep work moving speedily. Husky, high shoulders and tough rubber.

ON IMPLEMENTS

Long-wearing B.F. Goodrich Tires
help you move faster from job to job, work in soil where steel wheels would bog down. And a B.F. Goodrich planned changeover from steel wheels to rubber tires means extra savings—often one set of tires and rims may be used on more than one implement.

Stop in and see us about all your farm tire needs.

WHAT IS A CUSTOMER?

The word "customer" has always had a pleasant designation, but during the war period some people rather lost sight of its full significance.
So by way of reminder, we give you a few brief
answers to the question, "What is a Customer?"

A customer is the most important person in this store—in person, by phone, or by mail.

A customer is not dependent on us—we are dependent on him.

A customer is not an interruption of our work—
he is the purpose of it. We are not doing him a favor by serving him—he is doing us a favor by giving us the opportunity to do so.

A customer is not an outsider to our business —
he is part of it.

A customer is not a cold statistic—he is a flesh-
and-blood human being with feelings and emotions lik your own, and with biases and prejudices.

A customer is not someone with whom to argue or match wits. Nobody ever won an argument with a customer.

A customer is a person who brings us his wants.
It is our job to handle them profitably to him and to ourselves.

engine enough to raise the oil pressure to normal. H. D. S.

A. Sludge removers are especially designed to do a real job of combatting the mess that clings to engine parts, but the trade warns against using them in a badly sludged engine without first dropping the pan and doing a manual cleaning job. Dislodged sludge can be jammed in the small oil passages so as to starve vital engine parts.

Q. While accelerating there is a whistling noise in the engine of my car. Sounds like a canary. When I ease up on the accelerator the noise stops. It isn't so noticeable at higher speeds. C. T. McW.

A. I'd check for a leaky cylinder head gasket. The whistle is made by the pressure of a very little exhaust-gas.

Q. I notice that when I throw the ignition switch on the ammeter pointer doesn't move until I throw the switch off and on a second time. Sometimes I must repeat this, and not until the pointer moves to discharge will the engine start. Does an ammeter ever need adjusting? W. D.

A. You need a new ignition switch. The ammeter pointer may become bent so as to read a little inaccurate.

Q. Is there any danger in driving with the brakes occasionally screeching? The shoes have been carefully adjusted and the system is hydraulic.

On a brake tester there seems to be normal equalization. E. P.

A. The real question is whether the lining is so worn that rivets are cutting into the brake drums. If so, the drums are sure to be damaged.

They can be cut down so as to eliminate the scores, but that makes them thinner and more inclined to warp again.
